

navigate what's next

In 1960, Denver was poised for a building and population boom that would forever change not only the city's skyline, but also the fabric of the city itself. And Dufford & Brown was there.

From 1960 to today, we've been here, helping our clients, from emerging businesses to Colorado's largest employers, chart the present and prepare for the future – in the courtroom, the boardroom, and beyond.

And tomorrow? We'll be here too, helping clients from established industries to emergent ones navigate the shifting sands of a complex legal, regulatory, and business landscape.

Dufford & Brown celebrates 50 years – Then. Now. Next.
